PRESS RELEASE

Country-style floorboards with character New 3-layer flooring from Bauwerk

The new 3-layer flooring from Bauwerk offers customers the advantages of large oak planks in beautiful colour nuances, which are available in lively or quiet grading, and in three different widths. The new Casapark range in proven Bauwerk quality offers a variety of design options. This parquet is fully bonded and is therefore suitable for subfloor heating.

The planks are bevelled on two sides and are available in a generous length of 2200 mm and in three different widths (139, 181 and 221mm). Depending on the style of the interior furnishings and your own personal taste, you can lay these floorboards, for example, in the style of classic strip flooring or combine the different widths. Casapark is particularly appealing to those among you who love the contemporary grey tones and want to stand out with a unique, personally designed parquet flooring. A smooth tongue and groove connection was specifically developed for this range together with the engineering team, which guarantees an extremely efficient and convenient installation process. With Bauwerk parquet flooring and the recommended Bauwerk parquet adhesive, the user is secure in the knowledge that he has acquired a healthy living, easy care and durable quality product.
